

April 2010

We Want To Thank You...

We are so impressed with those of you that have joined us to support this mission. We are watching God assemble a great team of believers across this nation that are passionate about prayer and preserving the spiritual heritage of America.

Your prayers are powerful. In history, Moses saved Israel by interceding on their behalf. Elijah prayed for rain after an extended famine in the land. God hears, and He cares. Keep pressing in.

On a practical level, one person can make a huge impact in the world. Reflect through history of how one man or one woman changed the world. One person, you, can make a difference. Together, we can turn this nation back to God. Let's Trust God Again!

May you and your family be blessed during this Easter holiday.

Blessings,

A Message From Our Founder, Congressman J. Randy Forbes

Individuals across the country who were willing to stand up on behalf of our nation's religious heritage saw a major victory. After more than one year of fighting to restore references to our nation's spiritual history stripped from the newly-constructed $621-million Capitol Visitor Center, the engraving of our national motto "In God We Trust" was unveiled in the Center.

When I along with several other Members of Congress first toured the newly constructed Capitol Visitor Center, they were troubled to learn that the Center was stripped of all references to America's religious heritage and it contained a number of factual inaccuracies, including incorrectly stating that our national motto was "E Pluribus Unum" and inaccurately representing Capitol church services.

In July 2008, I led 108 Members of Congress in signing a letter to the Architect of the Capitol (AOC) expressing our concerns with the incomplete historical religious content in the Capitol Visitor Center. In October 2008, the Committee on House Administration and the Senate Rules

CPCF Prayer Requests

1. For true repentance amongst people of faith .
2. For protection of Godly leaders, Members of Congress, etc.
3. For God to stir the hearts of every American to Trust God Again.
4. For unity amongst people of faith.
5. For protection of CPCF team and Administration Committee agreed to correct the inaccuracy of "E Pluribus Unum," engrave in stone in the Center "In God We Trust" and the Pledge of Allegiance, and create a permanent religious history display. We worked to ensure those changes were agreed to before legislation was passed directing the opening of the Capitol Visitor Center. H.R. 5159 was signed into law in October, and the Capitol Visitor Center opened in December 2008. H.Con.Res.131 passed the House and Senate in July 2009, directing the AOC to engrave the national motto and Pledge of Allegiance in the Capitol Visitor Center.

The "In God We Trust" engraving was completed and unveiled recently and the Pledge of Allegiance is scheduled to be completed in the coming weeks.

This was accomplished due to the efforts of so many individuals in Congress and across the country who were willing to stand up on behalf of our nation's religious heritage. Thousands of visitors will walk through the center each day. The efforts of the individuals that have joined in this issue have enabled those visitors to experience a more accurate depiction of our nation's heritage written in stone.

This win should serve as an example to Americans all across the country that because we believe, we stand, and because we stand, we can make a difference.
